

Woman, you are our life, our crown

And without you we're an empty shell

There's no house without a home (you turn our house into a home)

And there's no man who wants to be alone (you complete us)

There's no child without a dream (you're our dream come true)

And there's no song without a meaning-- you're the meaning of the song we sing (you're that new song we sing everyday)

There's no life without a plan -- you're our plan, our future

Every woman wants herself a good man,

A good father

A good brother

A good uncle

A good cousin

A good husband

A good son

You're our true north

Our crown we celebrate you

Because there's no us without you

Woman of faith

Woman of God

WOMAN AS A LEADER AND A CROWN

Proverbs 12:4

A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband:
but she that maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones.

Isaiah 62:3

Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God.

You as a crown indicates the presence of honour as a cause for glory and joy

To remove the crown is an indication of shame (Eze 21:26).

You're someone that imparts splendour

VIRTUOUS WOMAN

To the question a virtuous woman who can find?

I make bold to say I have found you

To the question an excellent woman who can find

I make bold to say, you're that excellent woman

You're far more precious than all the golds and diamonds

The hearts of all the men in your life trust you, your father, your brother, your son and above all your husband

Because of you we are here today and lacking nothing

You have always been good to us and protected us like a mother hen

You deliberately and consciously live your life for us

You go out of your way to make life comfortable for us

We do not know how you do it, but like the merchant ships

You always make sure we're well fed and taken care of

You work day and night like a well oiled machine

Woman you're indeed a bionic woman

You're all together lovely

All together honest

All together kind
All efficient in all you do

You dress yourself with strength
You dress yourself with decency and honour You're just and upright in all that you do

Your kind and generous to all Your gracious words keep us going
Because of you we're honoured and respected in the community

I join your children to call you blessed. I bless God everyday for the gift of you

Many women have done excellently, but you surpass them all.”

Happy Mother's Day

Woman, woman

W -: wonderful

O -: orderly

M -: manager

A -: appreciative

N -: negotiator

Thank you for being you Happy mother's day to you all.

Brother to sister

God took the fragrance of a flower...The majesty of a tree...The gentleness of morning dew...

The calm of a quiet sea...The beauty of the twilight hour...The soul of a starry night...

The laughter of a rippling brook...The grace of a bird in flight...

Then God fashioned from these things A creation like no other, and when his masterpiece was through He called it simply – Mother.

And I call you my loving sister

My sister you where my best friend growing up

My first babysitter

My first personal chef besides mama

The first to make me cry and laugh at the same time

The first to teach me how to love and hate at the same time

Your laughter your strength

No wonder you to turned out to be this great mom

Love you my sister my friend

My dearest Princess

My daughter I may not have told you of, how proud of you I was when you where growing up

Looking at you now and seeing the woman you have become Against all odds, you have turned out to be a great woman of God

A wonderful mother a devoted wife

Your God is indeed great. What I failed to give you as your earthly father I can see that your heavenly father gave you much more

I may not have acted in away I should towards you as a father should

I may not have been there for you as should

I may not have protected you as a father should

May not have been there for you always when you needed me

Yet none of my short coming stopped you

Against all odds you fought your way through life

Like the women of faith of old, you're writing your name in the sand of time

You refuse to surrender your destiny to the abuses you suffered

You refused to surrender your destiny to the obstacles you encountered

You refused to be limited by my failures, or the failures of others

Like the true Amazon you are, you're standing strong today after all you been through

You rose out of the dust of failure and defeat to cast you own great shadow of success

My daughter I can never say this enough I love you

I am proud of the woman you have become

I am proud of the mother you've become

I am proud of the wife you've become

I am proud of the sister you've become

Today I celebrate you not as a good wife though you are

Today I celebrate you not as a good mother though you're the best

Today I celebrate you not as a great woman of God, though they don't come like you anymore

Today I choose to celebrate as my precious little daughter, my pride, my joy, my angel

My dearest princess I love you. Just can say it enough

Love dad

Happy Mother's Day

Dear Mom,

I want to thank you for being such a godly woman and teaching me the ways of the Lord.

Thank you for all your godly advice to me, that will pay off in the near future even though I don't like hearing them from you.

“Don't date that guy with saggy pants, he's up to no good”,

Don't date until you're hundred years old, anyway

“cross your leg when you sit,

“Don't stop in the middle of the road, do you want to get killed?!”.
MOM MOM

Mothers know best, right?

All my life you have been watching over me attentively.

Sometimes (rarely) I happily accept your advice, most of the time I reply with a glare or a grunt.

Thank you for your patience and understanding, I think the reason is because you know what its like to be a girl growing up in this crazy world or do you? Ha-ha! I think I know why, you're a good Christian mother right? Sarcastic me, I wonder where I got that from hmm.

Seriously now mom thank you for showing me how to be a true godly woman just like you

I thank you. Wholeheartedly, mother. With a daughter like me, I think you're allowed a minimum of three complete mental and emotional breakdowns per DAY, yet you tolerate me and guide me through without any complaints.

Wait did I say without complaints hmmm! That will be the day ha-ha.
Mum complains or not you're still the best. I will not trade you for anyone else. There were times the thought did cross mind though ha-ha! Just kidding

Mom, this doesn't mean I don't want you to give me advice. Yes, of course I wish you would just disappear in the heat of the moment when you lecture me. Especially when you're right again and I am so wrong.

Yet mom you are still my number one, my best friend, my most trusted confidant. My super mama

Mom when I read proverbs 31:10- 31. I believe the Holy Spirit had you in mind when He wrote that. You're the sum total of a virtuous woman

From you I am learning what a through Christian woman should like

From you I am learning what a true Christian wife should look like. Now I will definitely stay away from boys with saggy pants. Happy now mom, ha-ha

I want to be good wife like you when I grow up

I want to be good loving and caring mother like you when I grow up

I want to be a giving mother like you

I want to be a praying mother like you

I know I don't say this enough. I want to be you. I want to be the mother my daughter can look up to. The cool mom and the strong woman of faith and integrity that is always looks calm and faithful in the mist of adversity and life's challenges. Mom I have seen you go through a few of life challenges.

I don't know how you do it, but you do hold up well. I believe it's the Jesus in you right? I want to be The mother who teaches her daughter how to keep a promise and how to follow Jesus, just like you thought me.
I have discovered long ago what I want to be. I want to be a mother a daughter can be proud of, just like you.

My mother, my friend, my counsellor and my hero

I love your mom happy mother's day

Your Daughter and Your Number 1 Fan

MOTHERS DAY LETTER

As a little child growing up, though am still growing ha-ha, I was infatuated with Spider-Man, I still make bold to say in some ways I am still cut up the dream world of super heroes. I wished I could be as cool as him, slinging webs and fighting crime. It seemed like the perfect life.

Although Spider-Man is still one of my coolest superhero, I have a more important superhero in front of me all of my life: my mother.

Mama Thank You for Showing Me How to Love Jesus

You showed me how to be a good follower of Jesus, though am still playing catch up in so many ways. Your love and devotion to Jesus is contagious to say the least. Your strength and faith in Christ is always there for me to see, even in the most difficult of times. I can see your smiles through your tears. From you am learning to love Jesus and become strong in faith like you when I grow up

Thank You for Your Unconditional Love and Friendship

You are my best friend and you always have been. I've seen your love when you attended my sporting events, about how proud you are of me and comforting me even when I didn't do so well. Lovely encouraging, me not to quite, not to mention, through your faith in Christ you have shown me how to love others and how to love them well. Above all how to love the Lord Jesus

Thank You for Showing Me Grace When I Didn't Deserve It

Perhaps it is easier for me to take my frustrations out on you than anyone else in this world because you love me limitlessly and unconditionally. There were times when I was a total brat to you; I was rude, selfish and unkind. Still, you loved me anyway, and for that, I am forever grateful.

Thank You for Being my Greatest Fan and Cheerleader

Thank you for being my biggest and one true fan. You're my number one cheerleader, you believe in me even when I do not believe in myself. You thought me never to give up in life. Your big phrase with God all things are possible. With God on your side you can accomplish anything you set your heart to do. You always know when to say the right things, and you sure know how to make me laugh. Thanks for always taking your time to read us bible stories and cheering me on with your kind loving words, and the words of the Lord.

Thank You for Giving Me Everything

Thank You for all the sacrifice you make, always making sure I have all that I need, and adding a little of my wants here and there. I appreciate that generosity. I know kids can be expensive and demanding.

For supporting and teaching me how to be strong spiritually and emotionally, to sacrificing your personal time after your long days at work to talk me through my homework, to supporting me financially, you have always been there.

You have sacrificed so much in order to give us a better life than you had when you were a kid. You never failed to remind us of this. And this has thought us to appreciate life and the blessings of God

Thank You for Always Praying for Me

Life can be difficult and there have been times when I've felt like giving up, when things were not going my way. Each time, you were there to remind me of how special I am. And always quick to pray for me and pray me through

Through your prayers and prayer life, you encouraged me to keep reaching for the unreachable and never settle for anything less than I deserved. No matter how bizarre my dreams were — from becoming president or a video game designer or a movie actor or a movie producer — you always told me all things are possible to him that believes

With each passing day, I realize more and more how much you have done for me and continue to do every day.

Thank you mum I love you.

This Mother's Day, thank you “Mom” for being the best on the planet at your job. Happy Mother's Day, Mom.

Happy Mother's Day

From a Husband:

To the precious angel that was born into this world as a little baby; God's Precious Princes. Who later grew up to become a beautiful girl, and that girl later became a wonderful lady. Who turned out to be the most beautiful bride.

And that bride is now the most amazing woman. your children call you super mom.

One of your daughters called you: Mama everything!

But as a man and a husband I celebrate you today because of all I found in you:

I have found trust and unending laughter;

I have found my partner in many adventures;

I have found my true passion, and my number one fan;

I have found my greatest teacher;

I have found safety and security (Mama Hen);

I have found many a late night conversations;

I have found respect, honour, dignity and honesty;

I have found a second family;

I have found delicious meals and discovered new places;

I have found excitement, acceptance and compassion;

I have found funny stories, engaging conversations and genuine appreciation.

I have found true intimacy and true love;

With you I have found, loyalty and moments of tremendous pride.

I have found laughter that inspires tears;

I have found freedom of choice and support in all our decisions.

I have found quiet comfort, and moments in which I could freely display vulnerability;

I have found someone who stands up for me and someone to depend on.

In you I have found a doctor, personal trainer and maintenance worker, all in one. With you I have found reassuring smiles and true happiness.

You are indeed God's greatest gift to mankind. Mother, wife, sister, aunty and grandmother. You are the gate way to life. Your presence complete and compliment me. You are gift to be cherished always, and not only on a day like this. On behalf of all husband, thank you. It's your love that truly makes us feel infinite, because you remain the best gift, given to man, from God our Father.

We love you.
